

Scaffolding Emergence

1. MAP YOUR KEY STAKEHOLDERS

Start the exercise by mapping the different stakeholders you consider key to involve in creating a distributed network that facilitates a greater impact in the mission of ensuring a just and sustainable transition in your city.

Begin with the central circle, where you identify frontrunner actors who will be key as catalysts and drivers of the mission. In the second circle, identify key allies from different sectors, and finally, other organizations and individuals to involve as part of the constellation. Remember to work while thinking about specific organizations and even people with full names whom you know can be key to making our mission a reality.

2. DEFINE METHODS OF ENGAGEMENT

Now that you have identified the key actors, it's time to define how and through which methods we intend to promote their participation in the mission.

Identify at least two participation methods for each of the three circles. You can use our cards as a reference.

1. Engagement Methods to engage the FRONTRUNNERS

Write here the methods you would use

2. Engagement Methods to engage the ALLIES

Write here the methods you would use

3. Engagement Methods to engage your CONSTELLATION

Write here the methods you would use